

Hospital Preparedness Program

Response Ready
Community-Driven
Health Care Prepared

HPP prepares the nation's health care system to save lives during disasters and emergencies.

Health care coalitions incentivize diverse health care organizations to work together.

Many different health care entities must come together to ensure community preparedness. Developed and sustained with HPP's support, HCCs are groups of health care and response organizations that collaborate to prepare for and respond to emergencies, natural disasters, and other crises.

HCC membership is diverse and varied, but all coalitions must include four core members.

Core member participation improves patient outcomes and enhances load-sharing during emergencies.

National HCC Core Member Participation Rate

HPP is the only source of federal funding for health care delivery system readiness.

Through regional collaboration on health care preparedness and response, HPP promotes a sustained national focus on improving patient outcomes, minimizing the need for supplemental state and federal resources during emergencies, and enabling rapid recovery in the wake of emergencies and disasters.

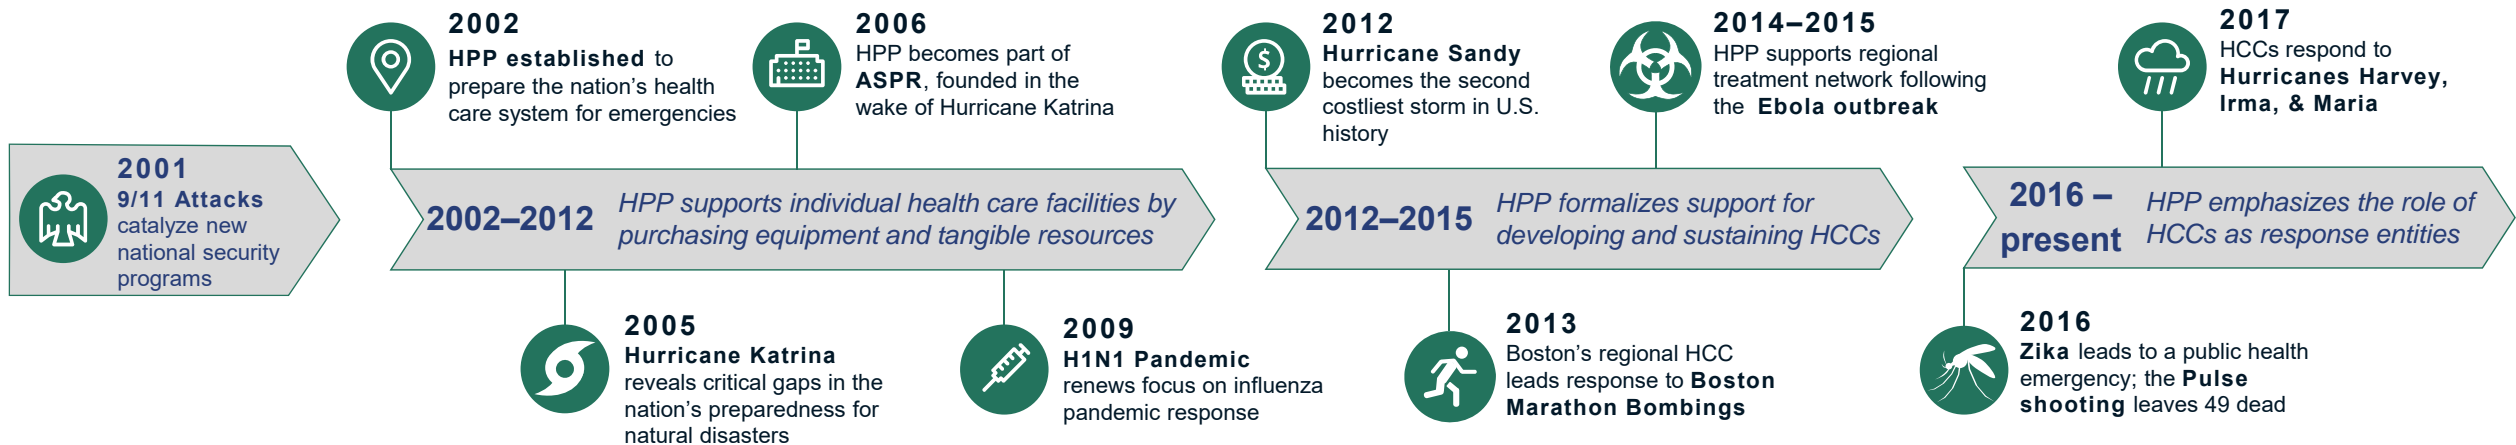

98% of HPP awardees say that HPP funding has been critical to health care preparedness and response

“As a result of HPP's efforts, our nation's health care system is more prepared than ever.”
